

Dear First Lady Melania Trump,

On July 9, 2026, I sent you a certified letter with photographs of my granddaughters, Malaika and Xayah, and the family that loves them. I am writing again because they remain forcibly separated from us, and their mother's parental rights have now been terminated even though she completed her court-ordered case plan.

Malaika and Xayah have a mother, a father, grandparents, relatives, and an entire family that loves them and continues fighting to bring them home. They are not abandoned, unwanted, or without family. San Diego County knows they are deeply loved, knows they have strong family bonds, and knows their mother completed what the court required of her. The County continues keeping them from their family anyway.

This is fraud, retaliation, punishment, and an act of hate against two children and the family that loves them. The retaliation continues because our family speaks publicly, exposes misconduct, and refuses to remain silent. Instead of correcting what is happening, San Diego County continues using its power against our family and forcing Malaika and Xayah to pay the price.

These children are being held in a foster prison. They cannot leave, return to their mother and father, or go home to the grandparents and relatives who continue asking for them. Government officials control where they live, whom they see, and whether they are allowed to maintain the most important relationships in their young lives.

Malaika and Xayah were never abused by their family. The harm begins after San Diego County takes control of their lives. The forced separation, emotional trauma, hospitalizations, restrictions on family contact, and destruction of their family bonds occur while they are under government authority. The County knows these children are loved, knows they have family ready and willing to care for them, and continues separating them from us.

Every day this continues is another day of childhood taken from Malaika and Xayah. Those years cannot be returned. The memories they should be making with their mother, father, grandparents, and relatives are being replaced with forced separation, confusion, and trauma.

In my first letter, I also offered the assistance of our team, and that offer remains open. Our team includes licensed social workers, clinical psychologists, neurotherapists, advocates, ethical foster caregivers, and others who understand the psychological and emotional damage caused when children are unnecessarily separated from loving families. They are prepared to speak with your office, explain what is happening, and help expose the fraud, waste, abuse, and retaliation operating inside the child-welfare system.

San Diego County—and no human being—has the right to sever a loving family because that family speaks up, asks questions, exposes misconduct, and refuses to surrender its children without a fight. Free speech is not abuse, public criticism is not neglect, and demanding accountability is not a reason to destroy the bond between children and their parents, grandparents, and relatives. What is happening to Malaika and Xayah is cruel, hateful, and fundamentally wrong. No government agency and no person should be allowed to punish children in order to silence the adults who love them.

What San Diego County is doing feels like a modern-day government experiment in forced family separation—testing how much trauma children can endure, how completely family bonds can be severed, and how far officials can go when a family refuses to remain silent. No child should ever be used this way, and no government system should be allowed to treat human beings as objects in an experiment.

First Lady Melania Trump, I am asking you to stand with Malaika and Xayah and help bring national attention to what San Diego County continues doing to these children. Please help expose this retaliation grudge campaign, this punishment, and this act of hate before even more of their childhood is taken from them.

Most of all, I am asking you to help bring my granddaughters home. Malaika and Xayah know and love their family, and their family loves them deeply. We have never abandoned them, and we never will. We continue fighting because they belong with the people who have loved them from the beginning, not trapped in a system that keeps them separated from us.

Respectfully,

Ricky G. Robinson

First, San Diego County's child-welfare fraud and foster-prison machine kidnapped Malaika and Xayah. Then it came after her twins. How many Robinson children does this machine believe it is entitled to target before it finally leaves this family alone?
